WEATHER IN THE GRAIN BELT Partly Cloudy Thursday After a change from yesterday's final figures. Corn and oats closed firm and provisions about steedy.

The wheat market railled sharply from a weak opening and in the first half hour prices advanced from ½c to le above the low point at the start, owing to general demand based chiefly on buillish advices regarding the French crop, which, it is claimed, has been damaged by the unfavorable weather.

The heaviness at the opening was due to the poor response of the Liverpool market to the advance here yesterday. During the day sentiment in the pit vered constantly, but was inclined to favor a higher level, notwithstanding the almost perfect harvesting weather now prevailing in the winter wheat beli.

Fresh reports of injury by drought to the Argentine crop, and buying by northwestern interests on the theory that the spring wheat crop must deteriorate somewhat before harvest time, were additional strengthening influences. There was quite free profit-taking late in the day, which caused a considerable reaction from the top. At the close prices were ½c lower compared with the previous close.

The feature of trading in the corn pit was the buying of a large quantity of corn for July delivery by a leading provision interest. Total purchasers, which were said to cover short sales, were reported to have been more than 1,000,000 bushels. Cooler Night.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The last day of the fiscal year is usually given over to the arrangement for the annual and semi-an-nual financial situation, to the prejudice of active interest in the stock market. Today active interest in the stock market. Today was no exception to this rule. Insappointment was felt also over the lack of confirmation for some of the rumors, which started the market into activity including the fact that United States tiese executive committee, which was in session when the market closed yesterday did none of the things which were predicted of it. Some heavy selling of United States steel came from buyers of yesterday in consequence. The reaction in the stock was much less violent than the rise of yesterday and the general reactionary tendency was contested violent than the rise of yesterday and the general reactionary tendency was contested by supporting other points in the list.

The Harriman Pacifics were influential examples. The advance in these stocks preceded the appearance of the statement of May net earnings, in which the expanision of operating cost proved to be a feature only second to the increase in pansion of operating cost proved to be a reason, was less than half the gross increase in the case of Southern Pacific and proved to be merely nominal in the case of Union Pacific.

The Northern Pacific statement showed a growth in operating cost greater than The Northern Pacific statement showed a growth in operating cost greater than the gain in gross earnings, so that the net return was actually less than in May last year. For the Rock Island and its principal subsidiaries, the enhanced operating cost modified but little the enlarged gross return, leaving a handsome addition to the net earning power for the period.

Money markets were undisturbed by the half yearly settlement preparations. Subtressury operations are withdrawing something from the market. A sentimental effect merely was produced by the publication of a call from the treasury department for return of $25,000,000 of government deposits, since the installments are not payable until July 15 and August 15.

More attention was paid to the intimation

More attention was paid to the influstion that an early issue of Panama canal bonds or treasury notes might be necessary to meet the needs of the government's running expenses. Grain crop news pointed to prosperous progress, but export reports of deterioration in the cotton crop received some attention. The market closed under some pressure, but at only small declines on the day.
